sess of the country by urging farmers to buy their supplies early in the season, instead of waiting as so many do, until actually needed for the spring eampaign.

Apart from the effect on general business, the advice is good for the sake of the farmer himself. To say nothing of the time wasted by waiting, there is considerable gain by taking plenty of time to decide where and how to buy and by having the goods a band well ahead of time .-American Cultivator. ********

ALFALFA SEED PEST.

embles Gnat, but Is Much More Dangerous.

[Fragared by United States department of agriculture.] The alfalfa seed destroyer, known as the chalcis fly, does its destructive work in clover or alfalfa seeds, from the gulf coast to the northern limits of the United States, according to the United States department of agriculture's specialist, who has personally sees the widespread devastations of this pest. By harvesting severely inflested crops, by cleaning fence lines and ditch banks, and by winter cultivation the grower of alfalfa seed may butp to control this insect.

The chalcis fly under the microscope is a formidable looking insect, but when seen in the field it is frequently confused with the gnat. These pests may be seen in great numbers flying over affalfa seed shocks and swarmag over the sickle bar when the alfalis being cut. The eggs are so small as to be invisible to the naked eye and ere deposited through the soft, green med pods directly into the soft seeds when the pods are about half grown. immediately upon becoming a fly the essect eats its way out through the scells of the infested seeds, then through the green pods. Large por-Sions of the seeds are hollowed out in this manner, when they are still green and growing.

The infested seeds which still contain the living larvae of the insect may be recognized by their abnormal shape and asually by the dull brown color. Some of the infested seeds, however, metain their natural color, but they always lack the glossy appearance of recumit seeds. The extent to which alfairs seed is damaged by the fly is not generally apparent, owing to the mizerteness of the insect and because its destructive work is accomplished within the growing seeds. The alfalfa seed grower can only estimate the percentage of his crop destroyed by opening a erge number of seed pods and observme the infested seeds.

An alfalfa field is frequently found with such a severe infestation by chalets flies that the grower considers it of insufficient value to be harvested and simply drives in a herd of cows to pasre the crop. With regard to the contrel of the chalcis fly for the protection of future seed production, this is a cestly mistake. Observations show that many of the pods burst open, while others are trampled to the ground. Here great numbers of infestes seeds offer favorable conditions for the hibernation of the chalcis fly laruse. These, as mature flies, will infest the seed crop the following spring. Moder such circumstances the crop should be moved, removed from the Sold and stacked. It may then be used as rough fodder, and if the remaining straw is burned in early spring the Afbernating larvae will be destroyed.

Tool Hanging Device.

A strip of iron 21/2 by 3 feet in length, with holes in it three inches apart, in which have been placed books, makes a handy place for hanging everything. Take equal lengths of wire and with milers bend hook on each end. Slip through the holes, take a long piece of wire and fasten in hole in each end of bar or strip; hang over screw hook a ceiling; bend wire a trifle and it will not slip. This contrivance may be utilized in the implement house, the hern, the milk shed, etc.-Orange Judge Warmer.

Peculiar Farming In Belgium.

Laud in Belgium is all cut up into Ittle tracts. Such subdivision results them inheritance laws. The fields are cultivated in the most intensive manner, just like a garden. The land has been worth $500 to $2,000 per acre.

It is possible that when the dreadful wer is over titles will be rearranged se as to bring the holdings of each therm into one solid field. A great numper of Belgian homesteads have been emerly destroyed, the crops ruined, live sack killed or driven off and the whole pince made desolate by war. Thousands of acres were inundated to reinvaders, and it may take years pemp the water off again. The men ace in the army, leaving women and etildren homeless and foodless, Efforts are now being made to induce Belgian refugees to migrate to the United Sietes, and any section will be extremely fortunate which secures these seleudid farmers.

Our Mineral Wealth.

The United States is not only the world's greatest producer of mineral wealth, but it possesses by far the greatest known reserve of any nation in most of the important minerals This is one of the things that has made us great and which is destined to make us far greater as measured by world standards. In some instances. such as coal and oil and phosphate rock and radium ore, the United States possesses more than all the other known deposits of the world, and the only essential minerals of the first rank of which the United States has no known supply at all commensurate with its needs are nitrates, potash salts, tin, nickel and platinum. But as it stands today no other nation in the world so nearly approaches absolute independence in respect to mineral resources, notwithstanding the vast magnitude of our home consumption.-Review of Reviews.

TOO STRONG FOR THE DOVE

Embodiment of Peace Pefuses to Play Part of Flying.

Edwardsville, III., June 2-The dove of peace refused to fly during the Decoration day services at Woodlawn cemetery at Edwardsville. -W. D. Pttmann of St. Louis, a layman, who has been conducting service at the First Christian church, recently composed a peem touching on the European war. When he read it at the services and reached the line begging that the dove be released and fly to Europe, the dove refused to fly. The bird was supposed to fly over the audience. Instead it fell to the platform as though

In speaking of the incident Pittmann said the next time he would buy a dove guaranteed to fly.
